- CLARK IS OUT AGAINST REPEAL

CONTINUED PROM PAGE ONE

the President of the United States, who honor.

"His heart is on the wrong side, and with the special interests in this fight and against the administration, and upon that side he should bravely take his stand and not endeavor to hide behind a behinder outblike on more side. ical quibble on rules."

Are Not Disturbed.

Administration leaders denied last night that they were disturbed lest the Clark statement and the Henry reply might tear the votes of a number of Democrats away from the real issue involved in the tolls fight. A controversy between these two leaders, whose personal political in-terests have not followed parallel lines terests have not followed parallel lines for more than three years, would add greatly to the uncertainty of the situation as far as the result of the tolls fight. Chairman Adamson, of the Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee, and who has charge of the Sims bill, declined to comment directly on Spacker.

who has charge of the Sims bill, de-clined to comment directly on Speaker on one side, and the charge that we are Clark's statement or attitude. As to the merits of the rule, he said:

"It should be remembered that the clause exempting American ships in the constwire trade from paying tolls in the canal was written into the Panama act canal was written into the Panama act canal was written into the Panama act ver the protest of the committee and over the protest of the committee and on two hours' debate, after nine years effort by the shipping monopoly through the most infamous lobby the American Congress ever has felt.

"The same arguments which favor un-Imited power to amend in other bills do not apply to this bill. There is no analogy between the Sims bill and a tariff measure, which should be read over for amendment. There is nothing to amend in the Sims bill. It is a question that should be answered either 'yes,' or 'no.'"

"The rule is neither unfair nor unusual. With three hours for debate on the rule itself and twenty on the bill, ample time is given to present every phase of the question. The proposition contained in the Sims bill is ample. It involves the one question of the repeal of the two paragraphs in the canal tell act that permit exemption in favor of an analysis and the method of the sides cannot be presented in twenty-three hours, they never can be. The size of the House, together with the many matters that must be acted upon during each session, make requisite rules limiting de-

House and no party can without enforc-ing cloture rules.
"The Democratic party has repeatedly since Mr. Clark has been Speaker adopted rules limiting debate on matters of first magnitude. As this matter presents but one fundamental question, the need for unlimited right to amend does not exist and under the terms of the rule itself. as well as the rules of the House, the right is afforded to those in opposition offer on a motion to recommit an Memative and substantive proposition. "The character of this rule has been known for many days by every one at all familiar with what was happening in the House. The press has repeatedly car d correct statements touching it. It remarkable, fo say the least, that Speaker should have felt the need of voicing his protest only after the rule was introduced and the lines of battle has been drawn. Those of us who be-lieve in the President and believe in up-holding, rather than tearing down, a Democratic administration will not be diverted from the accomplishment of a great result in the interest of our na-tion's honor by an eleventh-hour protest against a rule that has many Den recedents and which is fair and justifiable according to all orderly parliamen-tary procedure in the House, particularly at the instance of those who now, for the first time, show that they are opposed Speaker's Attitude Forecast.

Administration leaders declared last night that the Clark statement would make no difference as far as they were Because of the reluctance with which the Speaker has committed that during the time that we were a himself, they declared, his attitude had been accurately forecast and discounted. They expressed the belief, privately, that all men and that the rivers to the inthe Speaker is actuated to a great extent habitants thereof. We have denied the by considerations of his personal political Several of his friend

Yearn for Food---Don't Spurn It

A Brisk Appetite Is a Healthful Necessity. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets Quickly Restore Lost Relish for Food.

ess you have a real hearty desire ood you should by all means take hances of stomach trouble, for a of appetite means a signal of distress from a deranged digestion. When the stomach wants food it sig-when the stomach wants food it sig-nals the mind through the nerves, and these excite the taste buds in the mouth which at once secrete larg-quantities of saliva. This is called "mouth water," and all of us know There's an appetite that Stuart's Dys-pepsia Tableta gave me."

Dyspepsia Tablets Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets very gress.

quickly restore appetite by making the Great I stomach want food. The stomach attack.

readily recovers from indigestion, dyspepsia, etc., as soon as it is enabled real over the control of th rest the stomach.

In a short time the digestion essumes its normal condition and then appetite—and a good appetite, too—is the natural consequence. One may actually rather whether we are going to keep a contract we already have made."

Opening the debate. Chairman Henry meat, grains, vegetables, etc., and these declared that the American Congress had the state of the bluedered in energing the free tolls pronatural consequence. One may actually rather whether we are going to keep a foundable a few Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, place them in a glass tube with meat, grains, vegetables, etc., and these tablets without aid.

tablets will digest the contents of the tube without aid.

Just think then how quickly and efficiently they act when they are mixed with the food in one's system and what a great relief it is to the digestive upparatus to have its fluids so enriched.

Go to your druggist today and obtain a 30-cent box and make the actual test voirself, after you have extent at the content of the American Congress."

Called a Blunder. yourself after you have eaten a e and hearty meal.

convention campaign, declared the his antagonism to the President on the toils question the Speaker was "digging his own political grave."

From private expressions of Democrats, it is apparent that the leaders feel the future of the party and hope of power for a generation rests entirely upon the outcome of the toils fight and the seriousness of the breach which many feel now in magnificable.

cutcome of the tolls fight and the seriousness of the breach which many feel now is unavoidable.

After an unexpected filibuster brought about by Chairman Fitzgerald, of the Appropriations Committee, through the medium of a conference report on the urgent deficiency bill, the House finally got down to consideration of the special rule on the tolls question late yeaterday afternoon. At a morning meeting of the Rules Committee the rule was amended to permit of twenty, instead of fifteen, hours' debate, a wise tactical move on the part of the pro-repeal Democrats. After some discussion it was agreed debate on the rule itself should be permitted to run on for three hours. As most of the debate allowed on the rule turned altogether on the merits of the tolls controversy, the House will the tolls controversy, the House will listen to something more than twenty-four hours' debate on the question alto-

Arguments Are Outlined.

A plea that the House vote down the previous question on the rule, so that it would be open to amendment was made by Representative Lenroct, of Wisconsin, who said the bill should be amended so that it would state specifically that it did not construe the treaty, but that the repeal was based on economic

SENATE SILENT ON QUESTION

The Senate was silent yesterday on the Panama Canal tolls issue. The Chamber-so much acrimonious debate Wednesday, sensation so adjusted as shall compensate for expense and upkeep of the canal;

"That the amount and method of payment of such tolls shall be regulated jointly by the Scretaries of War and the Treasury, with the approval of the President of the United States."

the important issue as to the repeal of

PROTEST VIGOROUSLY DENIED

Intimations that the governments of be known to President Wilson that they did not look with favor on laws

DECLARES ADMINISTRATION

tolls exempting clause in the Panama Canal act. Champ Clark, Speaker of the resent controversy the issue whether the Democrats will stand by the record which they made in fighting Speaker Cannon and the old Republican regime for the liberalization of the rules of the he Democrats of the House to say

"This is the first time that Speaker onstrued, too, as evidence of Mr. Clark's

Large deposits of sulphur have developed in a similar manner to the development of the Louisiana sulphur fields

Store Closes 6 o'Clock Saturday

Saks & Company

Pennsylvania Ave. Seventh St.

No Squabbling

Over the responsibility in our new guaranteed Hose for Men.

and we stand back of them - prepared to make good any question of dissatisfaction.

for six months-and covers the six pairs

$1.50

Fine Lisle Thread:

reinforced at heel, toe and sole. The biggest value ever put into a

Hose for a quarter.

-Which sell at

The quarantee is

We sell them to you

Speaker Clark has called upon

Special to The Washington Berald. New York, March 26.-A REPORT OF SOUTH AMERICAN

and apparently a lack of memorials not come up, and there was an ab-ace of debate on the general question

OF PANAMA CANAL TOLLS

Aside from the attacks on the rule, he debate yesterday clearly outlined the arguments on which the opposing sides will depend largely. The line-up will be: "The National Honor," on one side, and the charge that we are "Truckling to Great Britain," on the rule and repeal; Representative rule and repeal; Representative Camp-bell, of Kansaa, against rule and repeal; Representative Lenroot, of Wisconsin, against the rule and for the repeal; Rep-resentative Pou, of North Carolina, for the rule and the repeal; Representative Swager Sherley, of Kentucky, for the rule and the repeal, and Chairman Flood. of the Foreign Affairs Committee, for the rule and the repeal, were among the speakers yesterday.

When the House adjourned unexpected-was vacant except in the diplomatic and executive galleries. Spectators were glad to find seats on the steps, or to crane their necks from the doorways. And when the House adjourned more than bate. No party has ever controlled the six hours later, there were not fifty House and no party can without enforc- vacant seats among the thousand-odd Representative Swager Sherley, of Kentucky, made the strongest speech of the afternoon in ten minutes. Sherley is supporting the President and the rule.

Representative Sherley said in page.

The gentlems of Panama Canal tolls were vigorously repudiated yesterday in sources as to the attitude of those governments.

It was made indiporting the President and the rule.

Representative Sherley said in part:

"The gentleman from Kansas was right when he said that in a little while men and parties pass away and are of no importance, and I had hoped that, like Saul of Tarsus, he had seen a sudden light that would have enabled him to conclude that opening sentence right:

"Men will pass away, parties will pass away, but the honor of a nation cannot be trampled to the ground and its effect countries named had been endeavoring to make suggestions regarding a policy to make suggestions regarding a policy.

because I believed it an American canal. But there is a difference between our seriously in the United States than in ed one at a time; a shopkeeper of Longian as a sovereign touching matters that affect us in a political sense and our obligations to the world touching the commercial use of the canal. For seven
The second of the securities of the sec ty-five years we have held out to the world the promise that we would build the canal for no narrow commercial advantage. It was in that sprit that we entered into our negotiations. More than ight to close the seas.

"Now we have built a great canal, and nen here today would have us sacrifice the nation's honor for the sake of a paltry advantage to the most merciless monopoly in America."

Cowards Fear Misunderstanding.

"Now we would undertake-to dim the luster of that great undertaking by aiding a special privilege and ex-emption for American ships. This is why the President of the United States, big enough to look beyond the pass-ing events, seeing the nation's honor as it is viewed not only here but by the civilized world, comes and asks you to repeal.

you to repeal.

"Men get excited over what they claim a base surrender. Let me say now that I never yet knew a strong man who feared to do what was right because his motives might be misunderstood. It is the coward who fears to take a position lest some one call the crawes."

Mann Attacks Rule.

Minority Leader Mann was one of the few speakers who vigorously attacked the rule. Representative Lenroot, who favors the repeal, was another, and Progressive Leader Victor Murdock also paid his re-specis to "gag rule."

Mr. Mann told the House that it had twice passed on the interpretation of the treaty; that President Roosevelt had treaty; that President Roosevelt had three times publicly interpretated the treaty, that President Taft, the late Secretary Hay and Senator Root, while Secretary of State, both publicly had interpreted the Hay-Pauncefore treaty, and that in all the constructions of the treaty England's claim had been denied and the pricit of the government of the United States to certain preferences had been States to certain preferences had been maintained.

Turning on those of the opposition who had stressed the declaration that the nation honor is involved in the controversy, Mr. Mann concluded:

"Not our honor is involved, but that of Great Britain in trying to drive a hard bargain on this country and this Control of the country and the co

Our honor is above suspicion, Great Britain's honor is subject to oper

Mr. Mann's speech was greeted by a real ovation from the House, the ap-plainse lasting long after he had reached his seat from the well of the House. Replying to Mr. Mann, Chairman Flood, of the Foreign Affairs Committee, opened

According to Representative Pou. Dem ocratic member of the Rules committee STRIKING CHOIRISTERS the free tolls plank in the Baltimore platform also was a blunder. "Why offer the canai free to one class of shippers" he demanded. "Why dis-criminate in favor of the coastwise ship-criminate in favor of the coastwise shipplatform also was a blunder. "Why offer the canai free to one class of shippers?" he demanded. "Why discriminate in favor of the coastwise shippers? One might think they had built the canal, whereas it was constructed by all the people. In such a situation as this all of us should stand by the President and the courageous attitude he has taken. He has made a candid statement and is at least snitited to support. He did not write the free tolls plank in the Baltimore platform, but he is President of all the people and is trying to do his duty. He is our spokesman in international affairs and he has spoken and we should preserve inviolate the freaty agreements we have made." Representative Madden, an Illinois Republican, advocated the rule and also the repeal, upon which he will speak, later. In a brief speech Madden declared he needed no facts from the President to enable him to vote. The case, he said, was purely one of contract between Great Britain and the United States. A plea that the House vote down the previous mastive on the rule, so that it Singers at Ryland Methodist Episcopal Church Return to Choir Loft for Easter Practice.

LETTER OF APOLOGY EFFECTIVE

Choiristers at Ryland Methodist Episco-pal Church, who struck Sunday a week ago when reprimanded publicly for whis-pering by the pastor, last night lowered their flag of beiligerency, called a truc-with Rev. Edward Galiagher, the pastor, and returned to their duties at the regu-lar Thursday night choir practice.

That Rev. Mr. Gallagher's letter of apology to Miss Mary Brewer, organist and choir leader, who called the strike.

expressing his regret to all members of the choir for the reprimand, which nearly disrupted the church, caused the break-ing of the strike, was stated. Efforts to locate Mr. Gallager to verify the statements were unsuccessful, and neither Miss Brewer nor choir members were communicative. In fact, all church members refused to talk, beyond saying:
"An unfortunate affair has been happily

Nearly every member of the choir was present last night when Miss Brewer took her seat at the organ and struck the opening chords of a hymn to be sung ain resolution, which was the cause of Easter morning. The singers were in mood, and the rehearsal alled most successful.

It is believed that every seat in the choir gallery will be filled Sunday morn-ing when the choir will make its first appearance in a body since the strike.

Senator Lewis, of Illinois, offered a res-siution, which went over under the rules, and which was as follows: "Be it resolved by the United States Senate, That in pursuance of the true senate, that is pursuance of the true American doctrine of equal and exact justice to all—special privileges to none— it is expedient and just that all vessels or tonnage passing through the Panama Canal shall bear and pay a sum of com-SMALL SAVERS MAKE GREAT CORPORATIONS

Frank T. Hulswit Says the "Money Trust" Is Composed of Limited Wage-earners.

The "money trust" of this country is which are popularly believed to control the money supplies of the world. The real "money trust" consists of that portion of the people who "earn a little but who save a little also."

save a little also."

Frank T. Hulswit, president of the United States Light and Railways Company and one of the best known of public stillty operators, in an interesting interview yesterday, furnished some sugges tive figures to support these statements "The source of supply of capital re-quirement," said Mr. Hulswit, "is the people who have in small sums. Contrary o the generally accepted belief, support for new enterprises which require large amounts of capital does not originate with the men and the institutions which are popularly believed to control the money supplies of the world. It lies with the great mass of small savings which, in the aggregate, make up the huge sums which industry and progress demand for nvestment every year. And capital is ininvestment every year. And capital is in-evitably drawn to that quarter which promises the greatest profit to the investor, always provided the security the investment is assured. "The great river of capital has be trampled to the ground and its effect pass away.

"We come here with no apology. The people of the country are not so much interested in what platforms say as they are in whether or not what we do here is right or wrong. Much has been said that it is an American canal. I also believe that it is an American canal. I also believe that it is an American canal. I also that it is an American canal. I also believe in our fight to control it in all ways necessary to our political welfare.

"When many men now silent were vo-""When many men now silent were vo-""When many men now silent were vo-""The countries named had been endeavoring to make suggestions regarding a policy world. The mechanic, the artisan, the world. The mechanic the shopkeeper—every have no concern.

It was emphatically stated that the which spends a little less than is earned, pours its offering into the rivulet, and from the countless thousands of these incompletes the countries of the world. The mechanic, the artisan, the which they have no concern.

It was emphatically stated that the such oliterest whatsoever in the question of interest whatsoever in the question of the school-teacher, the shopkeeper—every hand that is turned to production and from the countless thousands of these interest whatsoever in the question of interest whatsoever in the wich spends a little less than is earned, pours its offering into the rivulet, and from the countless thousands of these method-teacher, the shopkeeper—every hand that is turned to production and that its turned to production and that it the school-teacher, the shopkeeper—every hand that is turned to production and that it the mechanic, the artisan, the wrich applies to make suggestions regarding a policy world. The school-teacher, the shopkeeper—every hand that is turned to production and that is turned to production and the production and that is turned to product the school-teacher, the shopkeeper—every hand that is turned to product the school-teacher, the shopkeeper—every hand that is turned to pr sources in every civilized country of the "When many men now silent were vo-ciferous in their protests. I raised my The statement was made that the so-wolce in favor of fortifying the canal, called "A. B. C. Alliance" (Argentina, because I believed it an American canal. Brazil, and Chile) is taken much more the world would be beneficial to that class whose studies have been on the IS FACING SERIOUS CRISIS theory of economics, rather than the plication of a workable principle. In Washington last analysis the 'money trust,' of which dispatch to the Sun says, in part:

"The Wilson administration is facing a crisis over its program of repeal of the own the intitle, but who save a little also." They we have heard so much, is formed of own the industries and the utilities the world. They are the source of the power, and if the power is to be de-stroyed a goodly portion of the best of the world's people will saffer, for they House, has joined the other powerful power, and if the powerful powers are decided by the president's wishes.

"His statement tonight throws into the "Fortunately those."

"Fortunately those whose intent is ex-pressed in the effort to tear down and destroy are in the minority; they carry cating vith them a very great many who do not stop to think and reason, or who think and reason superfically, if at all, when they do stop to study and learn, they will inevitably desert the propa-ganda of destruction; the majority of the people mean to be fair.' Mr. Hulswit furnished some detailed re-Clark has run up the flag of revolt against the Wilson administration, and by many it is regarded as the beginning of a factional fight in the House. It is suits of a study of a specific issue of bonds, to which he had access for full information. "Of the total issue of these ends," he said, "25 per cent are owned by men and women whose income is less ntention to become a candidate for the Presidential nomination in 1916." than $1,000 or $4,000 per annum. A very large proportion of them are single men nen (the ownership is about equalor women (the ownership is about equally divided between men and women).

Twenty per cent of those whose income is less than the taxable amount under the income tax law are residents of the United States. Their average holdings are Out of a total of 397 wh exempt there are but seven whose hold-ings are more than $10,000 and 217 own one nd each of the face value of $1,000. Residents of foreign countries—England, Scotland, Ireland, Prance, Holland, Switzerland, Italy, Spain, and Cuba hold a quarter of a million of these securities. There, too, the small savings is heavily "Banks and trust companies hold better than 25 per cent of the total issue for investment account, and various partner-ships hold about 10 per cent, also for inships hold about 10 per cent, atso for in-vestment, and because it represents re-business success, from health to the serve capital which can be easily and quickly realized upon in case of need. Investment, and serve capital which can be easily and serve capital which can be easily and quickly realized upon in case of need. Individuals subject to the income tax by reason of a large income hold about 40 per cent of the issue, but the average know. A closer acquaintance with them will be entirely to your liking.

holding is only about $12,000.

"What is true of this corporation is true of every corporation in business in the United States. The owners of the corporations are the people who save, and the men who manage the corporations are no less the servants of the people than are the men who enter political life with that high-sounding bhrase on their libs."

them will be entirely to your liking, we are sure.

What success have you had this far with the pictographs?

Don't they become easier every day?

Practice sharpens the wit, you know, the pictographs to follow should come fairly easy to you, and if you only keep steadily at it, you'll have the first phrase on their lips."

BAND CONCERT TODAY.

John S. M. Zimmermann, lender, Stanze March, "The Whip" Suite, "Scenes Pittoresques".......Mamenet (i) Marche. (i) Air de Ballet,

(3) The Angelus. (4) Fete Boheme selection, "The Girl from Kars" Caryll Characteristic, "Panding the Cotton-

"The Star Spengled Banner."

NEW HOME FOR UNCLE SAM.

building for Agricultural Depart ment to Cost $300,000.

The Department of Agriculture will have a new office building on the south side of B street between Thirteen-and-a-half and Fourteenth, according to a statement made public yesterday by Sidney Bieber, who is projecting the improvement for the Columbia properties Company, Inc.

It is said the building will cost 1300,000 and will be rented to the Department at the rate of about 20 cents a square foot. There will be eight stories, with a frontage of 133 feet. The lot is 145 by 21 feet. The architecture will be Corinthian and the entrance will be decorated with a massive limestone colonnade. The three lower stories will be constructed of limestone, ornamentally decorated, while the upper part of the facede will be terractitiects. The work will begin soon and must be completed within five months.

Accuses Alleged Accomplice.

Philadelphia, March 26.—Rowland 8. Pennington, a youth, who, together with George H. March, is charged with the antimetor of S. Lewis Pinkerton, a youth, who, together with George H. March, is charged with the antimetor of Edgmont Township, took the stand today in Delaware County or Pinkerton's death. As the young farm hand told the story, his eyes of George H. March, who is being tried for the murder of Pinkerton. Penning-ton is under indicated, but turned State's evidence today.

Pennington a youth, who, together with George H. March, is charged with the stand today in Delaware County or Pinkerton's death. As the young farm hand told the story, his eyes of George H. March, who is being tried for the murder of Pinkerton. Penning-ton is under indicated to the story his eyes of George H. March, who is being tried for the murder of Pinkerton. Penning-ton is under indicated the upper hand while the upper part of the faced of the pennington called for March. March, according to the witness, recovered the black/sack and agained the upper hand while the upper part of the faced and today in Delaware County Comminal Court at Media and told the story, his eyes glanced from time to time to time to the fa

BUBONIC PLAGUE AT HAVANA. One Death and Two Cases in the Hospital.

Havana, Cubs, March 26.—The existence of bubonic plague was confirmed officially today when Carlos Arechaga, a Spanish boy, twelve years old, died from the disease. He was the first victim officially reported. The boy died at 4 o'clock this morning at the Spanish Hospital.

Two others also were officially de-clared to be suffering from bubonic plague. Both patients are in a critical condition. The sanitary department has invited all the physicians in the city to amine and study the cases. At same time, the sanitary precautions for the prevention of the spread of the plague were redoubled, and the infected zone enlarged.

Dr. Wilson, chief of the United States

Hospital Service, is enforcing extreme quarantine measures for passengers and freight for the United States, while Dr. Guiteras has officially cabled the fact of the existence of the three cases to Mexico City and Washington.

FREEZE-OUT FOR KELLEY ARMY

Pueblo, Colo., March M .- A detachment of "Gen." Kelley's army of unemployed men, who started from San Francisco to march to Washington, D. C., arrived today in a refrigerator car from Grand

The 159 men were surrounded in the railroad yards by the police, who fed the "army" on bread and beans. The men were not allowed to leave the yar. They plan to proceed to Denver later.

D. J. CALLAHAN HONORED.

At the monthly meeting of the director of the Norfolk and Washington Steam-boat Company yesterday, the office of second vice president of the company was created. D. J. Callahan was elected to fill the position, together with that of general manager, which position he has held for a number of years.

Bricks made of furnace slag, according

TELLS OF BRUTAL MURDER.

outh, Turning State's Eviden Accuses Alleged Accomplice

"George stamped upon his sides," said Pennington. Then he said: "Which side is his heart on?" District Attorney Hannum asked: "March stopped to ask that question?

KOEHLER TRIAL REOPENED.

Final Adjournment of Court-ma tinl Expected to Come Today.

New London, March 26.—The court-martial of Maj. Benjamin M. Koehler, under arrest at Fort Terry, reconvened at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon, immediately after the return of Lieut. Col. Shum from New York.

The trial had been held up two days awaiting this officer, who was called away on account of serious illness in his family. The afternoon session was secret, and lasted two and one-half hours, then adjourned until 19 o'clock tomorrow. Final adjournment is expected tomorrow. pected tomorrow.

pected tomorrow.

A rumor was current at the fort and also in this city today that Maj. Koehler, who has been confined to Plum Island since his arrest a few weeks ago, had slipped by the night guards and escaped to New London on one of the steamers that brought a theatrical party here. Capt. Patton. a theatrical party here. Capt. Patton who is temporarily in charge at Fort Terry, denied the rumor.

SAYS ROAD WAS "SANDBAGGED."

Boston, March 26.-William H. Coolidge counsel of the Boston and Maine Rail-road, declared today that the railroad had been "sandbagged" into accepting the trusteeship, recently agreed the Department of Justice and Chairman Elliott, of the New Haven road.

Mr. Coolidge made the statement be fore the legislative committee on rail

OLD MURDER MYSTERY SOLVED.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., March 26.-A Scranton murder which has been a mystery of the stores and sided the bride-to-be for twelve years was cleared today when in many of her selections.

William Pegram, forty-two years old, a negro, was arrested here for attacking a Wilson will order her wedding cake. It number of girls and confessed that he will be made by a famous French cook assaulted Miss Mary Quinn, white, at here, an old woman, who has made cakes Scranton June 2, 1992, and afterward for more than twenty years for all the fashionable weddings.

AGED WOMAN FAILS TO BREAK RUSSIA'S BONDS

Former Prisoner, in Conspiracy to Free "Grandmother of Revolut from Siberia, Recounts Details.

GOAL ALMOST IS REACHED

New York, March M .- A story of the attempt of Mme. Breshkovskaya, "grandmother of the Russian revolution" to escape from the wastes of Sibberia to which she has been extled for life, was told today by Michael Smirnoff, one of those in the conspiracy to free the seventy-two-year-old woman.

Smirnoff himself escaped by forging passports and making his way to by way of Manchuria. He arrived from San Franciso a few days ago and is being hidden by friends who fear Russian government agents may kidnap him.
"It was three years ago that I met Grandmother Breshkovskaya, at the colony for 'politicals,' at Kirenski," he said. "The plan to get her out was extens I was sent ahead to pick out a point which she could escape. I had fictition

"After all arrangements had been made Mme. Breshkovskkaya visited the hut of another 'political.' There she dressed in the clothing of a man. Her own cloth-her house, "Under cover of darkness Mme. Breshlokvakaya entered a sleigh and started on the 1,000-mile journey to Irkutak. An-dreyest was to remain in bed in her hut, feigning illness. After four days a new police officer demanded to be taken to In the meantime Mme. Breshkovskays had reached within thirty miles of Irkutsk. Policemen patrolled the road, the news having been flashed all over the country. Her disguise worked admirably, but unfortunately the sleigh turned over in view of police officers, and she was

"I was at Irkutsk when I head the news. With the fictitious passports which were to have been used by our 'grand-mother,' I made my escape."

MISS WILSON BUYS TROSSEAU.

esident's Daughter in New York Arranges for Wedding Cake.

New York, March S.-Miss Eleanor Vilson, daughter of President Wilson was in town today. She shopped, buying a number of articles for her trousseau for her marriage to William G. McAdoo, Secretary of the Treasury.

Miss Wilson, who arrived late yesterday, is stopping at the Waldorf, with her cousin, Mrs. John Wilson, of Philadelphia, cousin, Mrs. John Wilson, of Philadelphia. Mrs. Wilson accompanied her to most of the stores and sided the bride-to-be

The Ben Franklin QUIZ CORNER

$3.500 in Cash Will Be Given to Successful Quizzers By THE WASHINGTON HERALD

Daily Chat With Ouizzers

nest a week on the Ben Franklin Quiz, you have had good opportunity to study Franklin's sayings at close

"Don't they appeal to you as edu cating and helpful? We've heard many express them selves as delighted with this phase of the Ren Franklin Quiz. It makes it so much more interesting and worth while, they say.

No other author veloped, the faculty of expressing himself epigrammatically. In one himself epigrammatically. In one brief sentence Franklin drives home a thought with greater power and ef-fect than others who have written books upon the subject. His language is simplicity itself and his oft-em-ployed figures of speech heighten the color of his style.

Franklin is very outspoken and does not strive for the most gentle way of stating disagreeable things. Inci-dentally, he has a fine play of wit that tickles the appreciation of every one-which reminds us of a gentleman who was in The Herald's office yesterday. He had not been following the Quiz thus far. The conversation turned in that direction, and some one happene to quote the saying:

"Fish and visitors stink in three days." It struck him so witty, and so true that he fairly bubbled over with delight. And, of course, he's an ear nest Quizzer, now.

Franklin's sayings are widely diversified in subject matter. He goes the Practice sharpens the wit, you know.

The pictographs to follow should come fairly easy to you, and if you only keep steadily at it, you'll have the first award won before you're aware of it.

OUESTION BOX

J. A. C., Mt. Reinier, Md .- Picto graphs may be filled out in pencil, ink, or on the typewriter.

Miss A. F. G., Portland, Me. Par-ticulars of Book of Franklin's Maxims will be announced this plotographs can be secured for the price of the paper. F. L. S. Alexandrin, Va.—See and wer to Miss A. F. G.

C. S. Mcl., Strasburg, Va.-Back

H. W., Winston, Va.—See answer

What Says Ben Franklin Today?

Pictograph No. 6

March 27, 1914.

BEN FRANKLIN SAYS:

Name
Address

This List Contains Correct Solution of Today's Pictograph.

faggot

(Clip Coupon Around Black Rule.)

Don't judge of men's wealth or plety Willows are weak, but they bind the by their Sunday appearance.

Keep thy shop, and thy shop will keep Let every new year find you a better man.

Those who in quarrels interpose must often wipe a bloody nose.

Sleep without supping, and you'll rise without owing for it.

The bird that site is easily shot.

Today's is yesterday's pupil. Time is an herb that cures all diseases. Read much, but not many books. Money and good manners make the The bell calls others to church, but tself never minds the sermon.

If your head is wax, don't walk in the

If Jack's in love, he's no judge of Jill's beauty.

Philosophy as well as foppery often ing.

The family of fools is ancient.

Where good laws are, much p The worst wheel of the cart makes By diligence and patience, the Fear God and your enemies will fee body bids me good-r He makes a foe who makes a jest I saw few die of hunger, of eating 100,000. The King's cheese is half wasted parings, but no matter, it's people's milk. If you'd lose a troublesom

Keep flax from a fire, youth from se

HOW TO START TODAY IN THE BEN FRANKLIN QUIZ.

Solve today's pictograph for the sayings of Franklin which it repres Solve todays pictograph for the anything the first and save it.

Clip it and save it.

Call or send to THE WASHINGTON HERALD's OFFICE for the pictographs already published. The first appeared on March 22. Solve and save them. Then see that you get The Herald every day till you have all fifty pictographs duly solved. At the appointed time turn them in, and if you have a majority correctly solved, yop may expect a nice chare of the $2,500 list of